Who We Are

Agape Construction was founded by Kevin O'Brien in 1985 and is an Award-Winning Design and Build Firm specializing in Remodeling and Custom New Home projects.

From the initial designs, to construction drawings and the final walk-through of your completed project, Agape can take you every step of the way.

Agape employs the finest professional craftsmen and tradesmen who take pride in their work, skills and craftsmanship. Together, the Agape Team has over 300 years of combined homebuilding experience and has been in business for over 35 years.

“A great bonus for our clients comes in Agape’s ability to offer both Design and Build services under one roof, Making the entire building experience highly efficient and cost effective.”

-Founder and Engineer Kevin O'Brien

Why You Should Build With Agape

The Design & Build Difference

Our Design and Build Process is a method to deliver a project in which the design and the construction services are completed by one company. Agape has in house Architects, an Engineer, an Interior Designer and Cabinet Specialist. We provide the best value for your investment.

We provide customers with the convenience of working with one expert source.

This eliminates much of the stress that naturally accompanies any building project.

When you use our “one-stop” service, you can rest assured that you have a professional team in your corner, before, during and after your project.

Our process saves you time and money. By allowing the Project Consultant, Architect and Project Manager to work together, you are afforded their collective experience, which helps to keep your project on budget. This also speeds up the design, bidding and construction process.

Expert Architectural Team

Our process begins with our award-winning team of architects, who are all proficient in residential design and project vision. Every client can expect hands-on architectural design work from our experienced architects, who will directly work with you to bring your dreams into reality.

Additionally, our engineer personally signs off on every project for structural analysis to ensure it meets our rigorous standards.

We can also provide stunning three-dimensional renderings from our skilled team of CAD and Revit Designers.

We believe a personal connection with every client is critical to the architectural design process.

“Architecture allows us to connect personally with our clients, to create incredible spaces that are both aesthetically pleasing and uniquely functional.”

-Senior Architect Laurie Smith
